

5 Provinces Survey

Verbal Consent Form

Hello, my name is [insert name]. I'm here today on behalf of researchers at Yale University.

I'm helping conduct an academic survey to learn about the experiences of people in communities that have been affected by violence during the recent war. We would like to learn some basic things about a selected member of your household, your community, and your or his thoughts on several important issues that face Afghans today.

Today we are surveying people in [neighborhood designation]. Your household has been selected at random, along with approximately [X] other households. In total, the survey will be conducted in at least [X] districts and will be given to no fewer than 2000 people. If you agree for your household to participate, your answers and your participation will be anonymous.

This study is being conducted by a university, and the anonymous data will be made available to scholars, NGOs, governments, and ordinary people — you yourself may access the information should you wish to — though again, your identity will not be included.

If you agree for your household to participate today, we will use a simple procedure called 'Kish Grid' to randomly select the respondent; whoever is selected, i.e you or another member of your household will be asked a series of questions that should take approximately 45 minutes. Your participation is voluntary and there is no consequence should you choose not to participate. However, we hope that you will allow us to speak with you today because we are very interested to learn about the experiences.

May we speak with you today? Yes/No [Wait for respondent selection; if necessary, repeat introduction]

[If "Yes"], Thank the respondent and go to next section for the selection of respondent.

[If "No"], Thank the respondent for his time and go to the next immediate household on your right.

SELECTION OF RESPONDENT FOR INTERVIEWING:

- List all of the males ages 16 and older living in the household (together with their ages) whether or not they are present. Start with the oldest and work down to the youngest.
- Take the last figure of the questionnaire number and find the same number in the top line of the Kish Grid below.

- Look down that column and read off the number opposite the total number of adults in the household. That number is the key to the member of the household who should be interviewed.
- Refer back to the list of male family members and ask to speak to the person whose number is the same as the one you have taken out of the Kish Grid.
- Attempts should be made on different days and at least one attempt must be made on a weekend. After three attempts, the household to the immediate right of the originally sampled household will be used for the survey. If this household also fails, the household to the immediate left of the originally selected household can be used.
- Interviewer: Please list all of the males ages 16 and older living in the same household (together with their ages) whether or not they are present. Start with the oldest and work down to the youngest.

LAST DIGIT ON QUESTIONNAIRE NUMBER:

| Names of household members | AGE | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | 0  |
|----------------------------|-----|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|----|

M1. Interviewer identification number: _____

Interviewer: If the selected respondent through Kish Grid is under the age of 18 years, please go to the next section [Youth/Minor Consent Form] to obtain the permission of a responsible adult before starting the interview.

If the respondent is 18 years of age or over, read the following and if he agrees, start the interview with section 1

As you may know, some people become uncomfortable talking about their experiences, particularly as they relate to situations of conflict. If this occurs, you may choose not to answer any of the questions. You may also stop the interview at any time.

Again, your participation will be kept confidential. I will write down your answers on this interview form and you are welcome to view your answers at any time during the interview.

Our record keeping will not allow anyone to trace your responses back to you. We will not disclose your name or address at any time.

There may not be any direct benefit to you from this study, and we cannot offer you financial compensation. However, your participation will allow us to learn more about your experience in your place, and represent your interests in your study.

I'd like to continue now unless you have any questions.

Section 3: Treatment

Interviewer: I'm first going to read a short statement and then will ask you several questions about your views. (This statement will be dropped in case of 3C).

3A. Foreign forces have recently been conducting combat operations in your area. As a direct result of their actions, foreign forces have killed or injured innocent civilians. Foreign forces are also responsible for damaging or destroying property through their actions. Foreign forces typically do not compensate injured parties for these losses, creating severe hardship for surviving family members and the broader community.

3B. The Taliban has recently been conducting combat operations in your area. As a direct result of their actions, the Taliban have killed or injured innocent civilians. The Taliban are also responsible for damaging or destroying property through their actions. The Taliban typically do not compensate injured parties for these losses, creating severe hardship for surviving family members and the broader community.

3C No statement is read; proceed directly to next section.

Section 4: The List Experiment

Now let me explain the following question with a hypothetical example so you understand how to answer it. I'm going to read you a list with the names of different fruits on it. After I read the entire list, I'd like you to tell me how many of these fruits you like to eat (assuming that they are available throughout the year). Please don't tell me which ones you generally eat; only tell me how many you eat.

1. Apples
2. Pomegranates
3. Grapes

Now, your answer can only be in numbers (0,1,2, or 3), but you cannot respond by naming the fruits that you prefer to eat. Is this understood? Let us go back to the survey question now.

Interviewer: I'm going to read you a list with the names of different groups and individuals on it. After I read the entire list, I'd like you to tell me how many of these groups and individuals you broadly support, meaning that you generally agree with the goals and policies of the group or individual. Please don't tell me which ones you generally agree with; only tell me how many groups or individuals you broadly support.

4A

Karzai Government
National Solidarity Program
Local Farmers

Now, please tell me how many of these groups or individuals do you broadly support?

4B

Karzai Government
National Solidarity Program
Local Farmers
Taliban

Now, please tell me how many of these groups or individuals do you broadly support?

4C.

Karzai Government
National Solidarity Program
Local Farmers
Foreign Forces

Now, please tell me how many of these groups or individuals do you broadly support?

Section 5: The Endorsement Experiment

All questions will be answered using the following scale:

- 5—I strongly agree with this policy
- 4—I somewhat agree with this policy
- 3—I am indifferent to this policy
- 2—I disagree with this policy
- 1—I strongly disagree with this policy

5.1. It has recently been proposed to allow Afghans to vote in direct elections when selecting leaders for district councils. Provided for under Electoral Law, these direct elections would increase the transparency of local government as well as its responsiveness to the needs and priorities of the Afghan people. It would also permit local people to actively participate in local administration through voting and by advancing their own candidacy for office in these district councils. How strongly would you support this policy?
